PHYSICAL PERFECTION	As a result of his treatment with the Super - Soldier Formula and a stabilizing bath of exotic (Vita - Rays) radiation Steve Rogers was elevated from a sickly skinny young man into the ultimate superhuman peak of physical and mental perfection, Captain America:
→ ENHANCED DURABILITY	Captain America's bones and muscles are far denser and harder than normal, he can withstand great physical impacts such as jumping several stories from off a building and landing feet first on the top of an automobile, completely crushing in the roof section of the vehicle or sky-diving into water from a height of 182 meters/600 feet, or being struck by an opponent with super strength that would severely injure or kill a normal human with little to no discomfort.
→ RAPID HEALING	GOOD (10) RESTORED Captain America's metabolism allows him to heal & recover from injuries faster then normal humans. He is considered to have Good (10) rank rapid healing receiving 1 point per round that he is not taking damage.
→ SELF RECOVERY	UNEARTHLY (100) RESTORED
→ RESISTANCE TO TOXINS & DISEASE	AMAZING (50) ABSORBED Due to the Super-Soldier Serum that is flowing through his veins and is constantly being replenished by his body down to a cellular level. Captain America is highly resistant to the build-up of fatigue poisons in his tissues as a result of physical activity as well as to conventional disease. As such Cap can be considered to have Amazing (50) Endurance for purposes of resisting the effects of fatigue and exhaustion, and Unearthly (100) Endurance when resisting Toxins & Disease.
→ HEIGHTENED SENSES	All of Captain America's senses: Sight, Hearing, Smell, Taste and Touch; have been enhanced due to the Super-Soldier Serum (use Intuition rank for all feats).
→ TOTAL RECALL	AMAZING (50) Amazing rank photographic memory.
→ HYPER-RUNNING	GOOD (10) Captain America has Good (10) rank Hyper-Running, allowing him to achieve a top speed of 60 miles per hour (4 areas per turn) over a short distance, Endurance feat role required to maintain this rate of pace. Cap can sustain a comfortable running speed of 30 miles per hour over long distances without tiring (2 areas per turn).
→ ENHANCED REFLEXES	AMAZING (50) SH Captain America's reflexes border on Amazing rank superhuman level. His reaction speed is 40 kph, which makes it possible for him to dodge gunfire, even at short range, from multiple gunmen at the same time; however, on one occasion, it was seen that during his training, he can get shot by a bullet if there were too many to evade.
→ SUSPENDED ANIMATION	UNEARTHLY (100) Captain America may enter into a state of suspended animation when exposed to conditions of extreme cold with Unearthly ability, as the Super-Soldier Serum prevents the crystallization of water in his tissues as well as other forms of tissue damage resulting from extreme cold. This is not a voluntary power and Cap may not choose whether or not to use it as it automatically activates under the appropriate conditions.
→ LONGEVITY	The Super-Soldier Serum grants Captain America extraordinary youth and lifespan.

MOTORCYCLE	Captain America rides a Harley-Davidson custom special motorcycle, custom built for him by young motorcycle mechanic Jonathan Coulson of Queens, New York. Coulson modified the bike for the Captain in repayment for the Avenger's help in reconciling the youth with his father. Captain America then took it to SHIELD, where it was further modified. Captain America keeps his motorcycle in his van and takes it wherever he travels.
VAN	his van was a gift from T'Challa and was designed by Wakandan engineers. Captain America travels in this custom-built Chevrolet van whose nondescript outward appearance allows him to travel incognito. The van's interior contains a mount for Captain America's motorcycle and a built-in cot for sleeping. Built into the engine housing is a computer interface cradle designed to work in conjunction with Captain America briefcase modem-computer system to enable him to receive messages from his hotline service.

The Hotline is a nationwide telephone service enabling American citizens to directly contact Captain America with information pertaining to national security or crises beyond the scope of conventional authorities. The Hot line is headquartered in a nondescript building in Brooklyn Heights, New York, and is fully computer-automated so it requires no personnel. Incoming calls are recorded, transferred to printed text, and transmitted by computer to Captain America's portable briefcase terminal. All messages are simultaneously sent to the Stars and Stripes, an independent nationwide network of computer enthusiasts who have volunteered to assist Captain America in his data processing. The volunteer's scan all messages correlate them as to duplication, urgency, and location. This information extract is then forwarded by computer through telephone lines to Captain America roves the country; he has constant access to information regarding his mission to serve the nation.
